

slips which lay to the north of the park, between the canal and the road of the outer circle, are more prized by the public in general for the rural scenery which they exhibit, and for the shady walks which they afford, particularly during the hot summer months. Your memorialists, therefore, setting the highest value on these slips, are greatly grieved to see one of them fenced in and abstracted from the public benefit."—Times.

FALL OF A PORTION OF APPLEBY BRIDGE.—On Saturday last, about 11 o'clock in the forenoon, the north-east end of the parapet-wall of Appleby stone bridge gave way, and a large part adjoining the Coach and Horses Inn was thrown down into the river Eden. Fortunately, no one was upon the bridge at the time, although it is frequently occupied by loiterers looking over the sides into the river. Mr. Robinson, the bridge-master, was in immediate attendance, and by the aid of a sufficient number of workmen, a wooden fence with iron stays was substituted for present security; it is presumed that the old bridge which has withstood the storms of so many years, will now be quite removed, and one more in accordance with the taste and spirit of the times erected in its stead.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

A Subscriber.—The inquiry of our correspondent is very elementary. We refer him to "The Student's Guide to the Practice of Measuring and Valuing Artificers' Works," published by Weale, of Holborn; price 7s. 6d.

A Constant Reader.—The kind of jamb and arch mentioned is principally to be found in early and very late specimens; but is, we think, to be avoided as mean, and to be seldom used except in workhouses.

A. E. I. Z. is referred to Mr. Manfred, No. 36, Palace-street, l'innico; or should that locality not suit him, he may apply by letter to T. T., care of Mr. Pollitt, 63, Fleet-street; or to Z., Post-office, Charles-street, Middlesex Hospital.

Q.—We have not yet received the final report of the Master Carpenters' Society.

A Constant Reader.—The Contract referred to was extracted from a local paper; we know nothing further respecting it.

BITUMEN for covering the Arches of Bridges, Culverts, &c. &c. on Railways and other places (with instructions for laying it down), may be had at the rate of 45s. per ton, by applying to JOHN PILKINGTON, 15, Wharf-road, City-road.

TO LANDOWNERS, AGRICULTURISTS,
BUILDERS, ARCHITECTS, &c.

McKIBBIN'S improved ROOFING
FELT is peculiarly applicable as a substitute for Slate, Zinc, Tiles, and other articles used for Roofing from its ECONOMY, LIGHTNESS, and DURABILITY.

The disadvantages attending other materials used in roofing, preventing, in agricultural districts, many useful houses and sheds being erected or rendered waterproof, it is submitted that the improved Roofing Felt used in a great measure—and in some instances altogether—obviate them, and prove most serviceable from its lightness, durability, and impermeability to water and damp, in covering Houses, Cattle-sheds, Workshops, Rope-walks, &c. and for the sides, as well as roofs, of light structures for plants, being likewise a non-conductor of heat; besides its economy in repairs, the timber where it is used may be so light as to save the whole expense; it requires no other coping, and may be applied by any person of common ingenuity; being flexible and portable also, it is free from breakage, the expense of carriage is inconsiderable in comparison with slates, tiles, &c. and it is not liable to contraction like zinc.

Sold in sheets 32 inches by 30, at 5d. each (being less than 3s. 6d. per square of 100 feet), with printed directions for applying them.

Orders will meet with prompt attention, if addressed to

ING, Boiler, Railway, and other FELT.

The "Improved Roofing Felt" will be found much more durable than the common Felt made in lengths, and not subject, like it, to continuous sheets of other material, to be stripped by storm; it can also be more easily repaired, and from the simple mode of application recommended, the wet cannot percolate through nail-holes, being only fastened down at the overlaps.

TO ARCHITECTS, ENGINEERS, CONTRACTORS,
BUILDERS, MASON, AND PLASTERERS, MER-CHANTS, SHIPPERS, AND THE PUBLIC IN GENERAL.

JOHNS AND CO.'S PATENT STUCCO

CEMENT.—The following are the positive advantages possessed by this invention over every Cement hitherto introduced.—It will effectually resist Damp. It will never vegetate nor turn green, nor otherwise discolour. It will never crack, blister, nor peel off. It will form a complete Stone casing to any Building covered with it. It so closely resembles Stone that it is impossible to detect it. It never requires either to be painted or coloured. It will keep fresh and good in the cask in any Climate for any number of years. It is the only Cement that can be depended upon for export. It is the only Cement that can be used with confidence by the Sea-side. It may be used in the hottest or coldest Climate at any season. It will adhere to any substance, even to Wood, Iron, or Glass. It will carry a larger Proportion of Sand than any other Cement. It matures by age, and becomes perfect when other Cements begin to perish. It may be worked through the Winter, as frost has no effect upon it. It may be used on the Inner Walls of new Houses, which may be papered over or painted directly. Roads laid or pointed with this Cement will remain undamaged by the severest Storms. Any Plasterer may apply it, the Instructions for its use being very clear and distinct. The first cost of this material does not exceed that of the cheapest Cement now in use; but with all the above-named extraordinary and valuable advantages, nothing can approach it in point of economy.

Architects and Builders who have used this Cement have declared that it requires only to be known, to be universally preferred.

Specimens may be seen, and a Prospectus fully describing the Cement and its mode of application together with a volume of Testimonials, from every part of the Kingdom, may be obtained on application to MANN AND CO., SOLE AGENTS for the Patentees, 3, Maiden-lane, Queen-street; Cheap-side, London; of whom also may be had.

JOHNS AND CO.'S PATENT STONE-COLOUR STUCCO PAINT, expressly intended for Painting over exterior Walls of Houses that have been covered with Roman or other Cements, and which have become dirty and discoloured. It is in every way better suited for the purpose than White Lead Paint, which will frequently come off in flakes, being in direct chemical opposition with Cement; whereas MESSRS. JOHNS AND CO.'S PATENT PAINT having an affinity for Stucco, binds itself with it, stopping the suction, thereby rendering the wall proof against weather, and in the finish producing a pure stone-like effect, producible by no other Paint whatever. It is cheap in its application, and may be used by any Painter, in any climate, even in the most exposed Marine situations.

WARMING BUILDINGS by HOT WATER.—J. WEEKS and DAY, King's-road, Chelsea, having had a most extensive practice for 20 years in the erecting of HOT WATER APPARATUS for the heating of churches, mansions, warehouses, halls, baths, horticultural buildings, &c., will be happy to give estimates for warming buildings of every description to which heat is applicable. The hot water apparatus is to be seen in action on their premises.

VARNISH.—It has long been a desideratum amongst the consumers of Varnish to obtain a good and genuine article; brilliancy, facility of drying, hardness, and durability are the qualifications necessary, but these are seldom if ever found united. The experience of a life-time devoted exclusively to the manufacture of this article, the great and important discoveries of modern chemistry, and the daily improvements in machinery, have enabled Messrs. George and Thomas Wallis to produce Varnishes (both oil and spirit) unrivalled in every respect, and they confidently recommend them to the trade, as deserving of notice both in price and quality.

Builders, Coachmakers, Painters, and others may depend on being supplied with a genuine and unadulterated article.
